Community Partners for Success

Community Vocational Recognition Award Recipients

The Community Vocational Service Award program was established in 2005 by the Puyallup South Hill Rotary Club in recognition of the 100th anniversary of Rotary International.

Nominations for leaders in the areas of Business, Education, Government, and Non-Profit Organizations are solicited from community members. Awards are given to community leaders who exhibit excellence in their vocational field, contribute to their community and their field of service, and enhance the image of their vocation. All recipients are non-Rotarians.

For a list of previous recipients, visit the article on the club website at www.southhillrotary.org and log into the ClubRunner website.

Happy Birthday
Puyallup South Hill Rotary!

Four community leaders were recently recognized at a luncheon held at Pierce College. The recipients were honored by Puyallup South Hill Rotary Club for their contributions to the community through their vocations. The recipients of the 2019 Community Vocational Service Award are (left to right) Cathy Kirkland, South Hill Collision and Auto Glass (Business), Mary Davis, Emerald Ridge High School (Education), Stephanie Dunkel, Pierce County Medical Reserve Corps (Government), and Michelle Karns, Backpack Kids (Non-Profit Organizations).
